About Olivia Fox Cabane

Known as The Charisma Coach, Olivia has lectured on the topic at Harvard, Yale, MIT and the United Nations. She has been quoted and featured in media such as The New York Times, Bloomberg, BusinessWeek, Crain's New York or Sirius Satellite Radio, and is the author of The Pocket Guide to Becoming a Superstar In Your Field.

A former legal counsel, Olivia has worked with one of the worlds largest law firms as well as a Fortune 500 company; her education includes three Master's degrees in French, German and European Business Law. Olivia has both French and American nationalities; has lived and worked in 7 countries, and is fluent in 4 1/2 languages (her Mandarin stinks.)

Before founding Spitfire Consulting, Olivia handled international relations for a global network of 40,000 expatriates. She also spent a year of volunteer service in South America, initiating and funding projects as diverse as ensuring childrens education in emergency shelters, or transforming village roads to permit emergency access.

A former Advisory Board Member of Columbia University's AIESEC Council, Olivia was also a founding Jury Member of the Cartier Women's Initiative Awards for Cartier International.

She is the youngest person ever to have been appointed Foreign Trade Advisor to the French Government.
